Option Green Lecture Series: Birding In and Around East Brunswick

Steven Albert is a lifetime avid birder. As an East Brunswick resident for 30 years, he frequently birds around town. As a member of the East Brunswick Environmental Commission he leads bird walks around town in the winter and spring.

East Brunswick has a variety of habitats, from the grassy meadows of Heavenly Farms to the woodlands of Dallenbachs. Our town hosts a surprising variety of summer breeders, overwintering raptors and waterfowl, migrants, and local residents. Join Steven Albert for a visual tour of these local birding hotspots and some of the more than 200 species that have been observed in East Brunswick.
